Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1 and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Birru et al. US publication no. 2002/0194570 (Hereinafter Birru70).
4. In regard to claim1, Birru70 teaches:
 - A Digital Television (DTV) receiver, comprising:

- a receiving means for receiving a transmission signal including general data and robust data and converting the transmission signal into a base-band signal;
(Figure 2 in Birru70)
 - an equalizing means for determining a symbol level of the transmission signal;
 - a trellis decoding means for performing trellis decoding on a symbol of the determined level;
 - a nonsystematic Reed Solomon (NRS) decoding means for performing NRS decoding on the trellis-decoded robust data and correcting an error; and
 - a restoring means for restoring a digital video data stream with respect to the trellis-decoded general data and the NRS-decoded robust data.
(Section [0008], lines (16-18) in Birru70)
5. Claim 4 is rejected for the same reasons as per claim 1.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148

USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
 2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
 3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
 4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.
6. Claims 2, 3, 5 and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Birru70 as applied to claim70 above, and further in view of Birru US publication no. 2005/0271158 (Hereinafter Birru58).
7. In regard to claim 2, Birru70 teaches substantially all the limitations in claim 1. However, Birru70 teaches:
- The DTV receiver as recited in claim 1, wherein the restoring means includes:
 - a packet formatting means for reconstructing a packet with respect to the robust data;
 - an RS decoding means for correcting a forward error with respect to the general data and the robust data; and
- However, Birru70 does not teach:
- a data deinterleaving means for deinterleaving the reconstructed robust data;
 - a data derandomizing means for derandomizing the RS-decoded data.

Birru58 in an analogous art that teaches configuration for implementing enhanced VSB on the studio (receiver) side teaches:

- a data deinterleaving means for deinterleaving the reconstructed robust data; (Figure 2, ref. (201) in Birru58)
- an RS decoding means for correcting a forward error with respect to the general data and the robust data; and (Figure 2, ref. (201) in Birru70)
- a data derandomizing means for derandomizing the RS-decoded data. (Figure 2, ref. (202) in Birru58)

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the teaching of Birru70 with the teaching of Birru58 that comprise the data (MPEG) deinterleaver and derandomizer for VSB receiver.

This modification would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art, at the time the invention was made, because one of ordinary skill in the art would have recognized the need implementing backward compatible VSB receiver system.

8. In regard to claim 3, Birru58 teaches:

- The DTV receiver as recited in claim 2, wherein the restoring means further includes
- a controller for computing delay time for NRS decoding and packet reconstruction with respect to the robust data, and

- the data derandomizing means performs derandomization in consideration of the delay time.

9. Claim 5 is rejected for the same reasons as per claim 2.
10. Claim 6 is rejected for the same reasons as per claim 3.

Conclusion

11. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
 - Limberg US patent no. 7197685 teaches robust signal transmission in digital television broadcast.
